I. OVERVIEW TO THE 3STEPS YOUTH TRAINING

I.1 Introduction

3STEPS Project is an Erasmus+ KA3 project funded by the European Commission and is implemented by a consortium of partners from France (ALDA), Greece (Symplexis), Italy (CESIE), Spain (Caminos), and Turkey (Mozaik). The main objective of the project is to implement a comprehensive education model and peer mentoring for supporting inclusion of young refugees and migrants with the use of two Austrian Best Practice models of migrant education and integration across Europe.

Refugee and migrant youth have enormous potential to be active participants in the host countries. They are a diverse population group who commonly display immense resilience and resourcefulness. They come to the host countries with an array of strengths and capabilities and are often highly motivated to succeed in education and embrace the opportunities available to them. However, they also face obstacles in accessing the support and finding opportunities they need to navigate the demands of building a new life in a new country, including education, training, and employment transitions.

The 3STEPS Youth Training offers a learning opportunity on the topics of literacy, digitalization, numeracy, vocational orientation, and social inclusion that will help young refugees and migrants get new skills that support their inclusion into the host country. This Training Curriculum also offers an array of example techniques to 3STEPS trainers and mentors. These are several exercises which employ basic principles of the two Best Practice approaches and are to be implemented by those who also underwent the respective trainings as trainers or mentors. To these people, the exercises in this document may serve as a basis for their work, with great emphasis on the need to continually reflect, adapt, improvise and innovate.

I.2 Training Methodology

The training content is divided into 4 areas, and each area contains several activities which should be adjusted by the trainer to fit the specific needs of the participants. The training is presented in a way that a specific approach can be easily applied across the different project countries. Careful attention must be paid on sustainability and consistency of the project partner countries' policies, their capacity to receive assistance (such as the possibility of mobilizing local resources), training feasibility and awareness of community needs. The training can be delivered flexibly according to the schedule of the delivering organization. Content areas and segments are not in order and can be implemented based on target group needs. Introduction segment should be held at the start of first session with the group. After introduction part, other sessions cover the areas identified as below.

Structure

a. Introduction

The activities in the part are implemented during the first session that the 3STEPS project, Youth Training's schedule, responsibilities that are expected from participants will be shared with the participants. These activities aim to enable the participants to get to know each other and share their hopes and fear on the Youth Training. Each session will be started to check the homework given on the previous lesson (if any, but recommended) and ended with review to be done by the trainer.

b. Basic Education

This area aims to give young migrants and refugees life skills and improve their prospects for the future.

1. Literacy Skills covers these abilities:

- a. Reading,
- b. Writing,
- c. Speaking
- d. Listening:

Moreover, the participants will learn common words related to the topic and enhance their knowledge thanks to homework given by the trainer.

2. Numeracy Skills

3. Digital Skills

c. Vocational Orientation

This area provides information on the labour market for young migrants and refugees and assist them to assess their vocational chances

d. Social Inclusion and mutual learning

This area builds cultural sensitivity for better relationship and encouraging social participation by young migrants in this process.

The intention is to give different opportunities to familiarize participants with different methods. Suggested time for practical exercises can be increased according to the needs of the participants.

Although the basic education and social inclusion training will be implemented by the 3STEPS trainers, vocational orientation will be carried out by the 3STEPS mentors who have similar social and cultural background to young migrants and refugees. Vocational orientation will be given to the participants with blended learning methodology, a combination of f2f training and online lessons.

Trainer needs to end the session with the evaluation cards that obtain learners feedback on their progress. We have created two type of evaluation cards that can be found in Annex 1. The trainer can use one of them. The first evaluation card includes emojis. When the trainer addresses the question "How would you describe the learning today?" to the learners. The learners will select one of the emojis to describe their learning. Other evaluation cards based on assessment through the numbers. The trainer asks the learners to evaluate their learning process through the cards having the numbers from "0" till "3". Moreover, the trainers can use daily reflection journal after the session to evaluate the learning day.

1.3 Training Overview

This handbook has been framed to provide content and a series of activities to increase language, numeracy, digital skills of young refugees and migrants and enhance social and vocational integration and enable 3STEPS mentors and trainers to explore how it can be integrated into their future work with young people from refugee and migrant backgrounds. Language skill refers to the ability to use a language properly. In other words, the learner should be fully proficient in all the four skills of the language: listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

The 3STEPS Youth Training will foster young people's successful integration by providing an entry pathway to education for low-skilled migrants and thus fostering their opportunities to establish their existence in a way that benefits them and society at large.

Given this, and the role of 3STEPS trainers and mentors in assessing and meeting the transition needs of young refugees and migrants between 15 and 25 years of age will be enhanced.

The 3STEPS youth training have important perspectives on barriers and facilitators to improve young people’s acquisition on three fields that young refugees and migrants need them to reach their full potential, and to fully participate in the society.

Area 2

Basic Education to improve skills on literacy, numeracy, and digital skills

Basic education is the basic requirement for the realization of personal and social rights of every single person. Due to various circumstances, young people are often unable to acquire a basic education and that lead for them to be disadvantaged in social, economic, cultural, and other aspects of life.

A person is functionally literate who can engage in all those activities in which literacy is required for effective functioning of his group and community and also for enabling him to continue to use reading, writing, and calculation for his own and the community's development.¹

UNESCO (1978) 22 defines primary and functional literacy as the result of the literacy process. A literary educated person is someone who can read, write, and understand simple short sentences relating to their everyday life. However, literacy is much more than just the capacity to read and write. It is the constant practical use of writing and of the written record. Literacy represents a different way of seeing the world and storing information from that used by illiterate people and it is a set of acts and transitions in which people use reading and writing for personal and social purposes.

3. RECOMMENDATION FOR THE TRAINERS AND MENTORS

It is important for the trainer and mentors to be aware of their roles in the learning process. Mentors and mentees need to set up the mentoring process as an open pathway that is based on respect to delicate issues and personal values. They need to pay attention to how participants interact with them, respond to new concepts, and examine their own value systems. Especially as mentoring is implemented as a one-on-one relationship between mentors and mentees, such is essential if mentors are to succeed in their role as trusted friend and companion.

Moreover, the trainers and mentors should adopt these behaviours during the 3STEPS Youth Training to overcome conflict that can be occurred during the training.

- Willingness to help learner/mentee succeed
- Being aware of learners' and mentees' needs
- Disseminate information as young people need
- Have different resources and tools that can be applied to different learning styles of the participants
- Improve interpersonal skills
- Having active listening and communication skills
- Empathize for the participants
- Act as sources for additional information
- Paying attention to the parents of participants and engaging in parent-mobilizing activities improves the communication and mutual understanding

The trainers and mentor can find more activities related to cultural issues in WP3 and adapt them for their activities.

Moreover, the trainer can invite experts who are related to the topic to be given in the lesson. This person can make contribution to creating a better impact on the participants' learning process.

According to participants needs' and learning pace, the trainer can give more time to finalize the lesson and revise the topic considering participants' demands and needs.
